What Is Going On Tonight.
Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Willimantic Lodge No. 1311, meets, Eastern Star Lodge, No. 44, A. F. & A. M., stated communication, at Masonic hall.

Another booze runner came to grief trying to slip through Willimantic on Tuesday night and now reposes in a cell at the police station. He is John Komelidich of Putnam. The police caught him trying to slip through with his Rio truck containing one forty-five gallon barrel of whiskey. When stopped Komelidich made no effort to escape but said he was headed for Putnam.

The arrest of Komelidich, and the fact that he was headed for Putnam, led the local officers to believe that he knew where he could find a safe place to land his booze and possibly dispose of it. Certain people in Putnam feel that the work of the Willimantic police should be commended and have not hesitated to air their views. Willimantic people now wonder what the Putnamites will have to say when a man from the "boozed city" gets pinched for running booze around the state.

The arrest of Komelidich brings to mind a conversation a local man had with a police officer of Putnam. The Willimantic man asked him why he had made no efforts to stop booze running in that city and the answer he received was, "We've been too busy but will probably do something soon." To this the local man said, "You mean you're afraid to go out and get booze runners, but that you haven't had the time?"

Among the worst "knockers" in Putnam were the lawyers and now that Komelidich is in need of one the Willimantic police believe that the opportunity to see who is right, has come along and they can defend a Putnam man. Another man stated that if Komelidich was carrying booze to Putnam perhaps there might be work there to locate the place where the booze is being sold instead of criticizing the work of men enforcing the law.

The regular meeting of the Willimantic Woman's club was held Tuesday afternoon at their rooms, No. 805 Main street with a large attendance. Previous to the business session, a social hour was enjoyed and a delightful luncheon was served by members of the entertainment committee of which Mrs. Arthur Stiles was chairman. A brief business meeting followed, Mrs. Robert H. Fenton, president, presiding. Members were urged to attend the meeting at the Chamber of Commerce hall Wednesday evening when the question of city government will be discussed. The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Ruth McIntyre Dadiourian of Hartford, a graduate of Radcliffe college. Mrs. Dadiourian, representing the Connecticut League of Women Voters, spoke about bills now before the state legislature which have been closely followed by the Consumers' League and the question of women serving on juries was also discussed. Questions were asked and Mrs. Dadiourian explained them to the club members. The directors representing the Willimantic Woman's club on the Willimantic Welfare Bureau was also appointed. Mrs. Roy Richardson will serve in that capacity for the coming year.

At the next meeting of the club Dean Irene Nye of Connecticut College for Women, New London, will speak, her subject being "Education For Girls at the Connecticut college."

Mayor Joseph Dutton of Bristol is to speak at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce hall on Main street, this (Wednesday) evening. Mayor Dutton is city manager of Bristol and will explain why that city is one of the best governed cities in the state. Invitations have been sent to the public and a large attendance is expected.

The ecclesiastical committee of the First Congregational church comprising George H. Hinman, Charles F. Risford, Christopher C. Case, and Treasurer George S. McCready, pastor, have also prepared a statement as to the benevolence of the church, which is twice as large as the amount asked for at the beginning of the year, 1920. The church raised double the quota assigned. This year the budget calls for $7,500 instead of $7,280 the estimate for 1920. Benevolence to the amount of $3,547 are asked for. The Every Member carves has been set for Sunday, March 20th, at which time the canvassing committee of forty-five will seek pledges from church members. To benevolence the church has shown a steady growth, from the $58.19 set for 1907 to $1,355.37 raised last year. There are 438 persons pledged for support and of this number only 184 pledged for benevolence in 1920. The National Council of Congregational churches has a goal of $5,000,000 to be raised during 1921. This means an average of $4.18 for each of the 464 members. Last year it was $5.40 per member. The benevolence committee has set a goal for 1921 of $5,000,000. The budget follows: Ministry $3,500.

At the meeting of the church, the budget for 1921 was $7,500. The church raised double the quota assigned. This year the budget calls for $7,500 instead of $7,280 the estimate for 1920. Benevolence to the amount of $3,547 are asked for. Dr. John L. Sullivan of Willimantic and his brother, Dr. Patrick E. Sullivan, of Wallingford, who were killed by the overturning of their automobile in Wallingford Sunday afternoon, were well known here. They spent their boyhood days in Stafford Springs and each retained his residence here until after graduation from the dental college. They have a sister, Miss Bridget Sullivan, still residing in the old homestead on Center street. Friends here were grieved to hear of the fatality.

MYSTIC

Many men who are out of work are spending their time advantageously in fishing and clamming, which helps out on the provisions necessary to maintain a family and gives financial help as well. One man is reported to have made $18 from clamming and selling them at the past week.

In the absence of Rev. Mr. O'Brien, the pulpit of the Union Baptist church was occupied Sunday by Rev. Mr. Stanton, a retired minister.

Work on the Tripp building, which has been purchased by John F. Neves, is going steadily forward and each day sees many changes in its appearance. The sign which runs across the top of the building has been taken off and the front of the building taken off and a temporary partition built several feet back from the sidewalk with one entrance to the Mystic Variety store by means of a temporary gangplank out to the sidewalk. No change has been made yet in the store on the east end. On the west end the old building where the fish market stood has been removed and only the splices which support it are left standing.

Men in the employ of the state highway department were at work Monday scrubbing the road along West Main street.
